

THESIS TITLE

Senate Committee for Graduate Studies (Bil. 6/2005/2006) in its meeting on 18 January 2006 has decided that thesis title should observe the following:

- i. Thesis title should be a short and snappy description of the main topic of the thesis. Not more than 15 words.
- ii. Redundant words such as “An investigation of ...”, “A preliminary study of ...”, “A study of ...”, “Analysis of ...”, “On the ...”, “Theory of ...”, “Some ,,”, and “Toward a ...” must be avoided.
- iii. Thesis title should not contain formulas, symbols or subscripts, Greek letters, or other non-alphabetical symbols. Word substitutes should be used instead.
- iv. Thesis title should not contain acronyms, eg. “GPS” or even acronyms in brackets. For example, “GPS” should be written as “Global positioning system” and should not be written as “Global positioning system (GPS)”
- v. Thesis title should not contain punctuations such as colon “:”, semi-colon “;”, etc.
